TRUTH BASIC IN RELIGION

C. A. HAWKINS SPEAKS AT COLLEGE ASSEMBLY TODAY.

ELECT MAY QUEEN FRI.

The New Student Constitution Will Be Considered by Popular Vote at Next Assembly.

The serious attitude towards truth in the quest and after attainment, was the subject of the address given by C. A. Hawkins at the College assembly. Mr. Hawkins is head of the Latin department at the College and is one of the oldest in years of service in school teaching.

"I'd rather be a pagan and worship a religion which has long since died than to be a Christian and be bound down by untruths and by sectarianism," was the statement of Mr. Hawkins in his address.

"The serious quest for truth and the serious use of that truth after once attained is foremost important in our religion and not the petty lines which are drawn between the various forms of religions."

Mr. Hawkins also denounced the many untruths that are used by politicians, school teachers, and students, for self advancement.

The assembly was in charge of Dean Colbert who acted in the absence of Harry A. Miller of the public speaking department.

The nominations for May Queen will be held at the College tomorrow and the final election will take place on Friday, according to the announcement of Temple Allen, president of the Student Council.

At the assembly on next Wednesday the new student constitution, which was adopted by the student council and welfare committee will be considered by the students. A two-thirds majority is necessary to adopt the constitution. Speeches for and against the new constitution will be heard by the student body and voting will be on official ballots.

The May Queen is to be nominated from among the members of the senior class. Only boys are eligible to vote for the May Queen. The Squire of the occasion will be elected from the boys of the senior class. Only girl students at the College may vote for the Squire.

Anderson and Soloman Sentenced From Here

Men Held for Robbing Rosendale Store Convicted Here In 1921 of Stealing Automobile at Barnard.

Two men arrested at St. Joseph yesterday, charged with robbing the Camelick & Cummings general store at Rosendale, last Saturday night, were sentenced by the Nodaway County circuit court to five years in the penitentiary in November, 1921, according to Steve A. Roach, former sheriff.

They are Jess Anderson, age 24 years, 731 South Sixth street, and William Solomon, age 28 years, 1824 South Fourth street, St. Joseph. Mr. Roach said last night they were convicted of stealing a Buick automobile at Barnard in 1921, and in November of that year he took them to Jefferson City to serve sentences in the state prison. It was his opinion that they were released from the penitentiary just last fall.

They are accused with Marie Williams, age 23 years old, 316 Scott street, H. H. McIntyre, age 36 years, 1406 North Fourth street; Ernest Mott, 2213 South Sixth street; and Taylor Brown, age 38 years of Rosendale, for the robbery of the Rosendale store, and the St. Joseph police are attempting to link the six under arrest, with several recent robberies at St. Joseph.

The St. Joseph police found most of the stolen goods at the home of the Williams woman, which included twenty-two pairs of men's shoes, a bolt of crepe cloth, three bolts of gingham, fifteen boxes of chewing tobacco, fourteen men's shirts, twenty-three pairs of women's silk hose, bath towel and underclothing. Also a large quantity of silverware was found in the house, the police say.

Sheriff F. M. Carter of Andrew County, was in St. Joseph yesterday and was expecting to take the prisoners to Savannah.

Roberta Ruth Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Lincoln of Pickering announce the birth of a daughter yesterday to whom they have given the name Roberta Ruth.

DR. MILLER TO HEAD DENTISTS

MARYVILLE MAN CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF STATE ASSOCIATION.

Has Practiced Denistry Here For Last Twenty-Four Years—Is First Local Man To This Office.

Dr. Jesse Miller of Maryville was yesterday elected president of the Missouri State Dental Association for the coming year at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the Hotel Baltimore, Kansas City.

At the state meeting in Excelsior Springs last May, Dr. Miller was chosen vice-president of the dentists organization.

This is the first time in the history of the state dentists association that a Maryville man has been chosen its president. Dr. Miller is also president of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce and is vice-president of the school board. He has taken an active interest in all community affairs.

Dr. Miller is a native of Nodaway County and has practiced denistry here for the last twenty-four years.

He succeeds Dr. G. W. Hillias of Kansas City as president of the state association. Dr. George B. Winters of St. Louis was chosen vice-president of the organization. In all probability he will be elevated to the presidency of the association next year.

A Beneficial Rain for Growing Crops

Pastures Were Becoming Short—An Aid to Corn Recently Planted, Says County Agent.

The rain during the early hours this morning was a great benefit to the growing crops and pastures, J. Ross Fleetwood, county agent, said this morning.

It was a much needed moisture and came at the right time, according to Mr. Fleetwood, and was especially beneficial to the pastures. The pastures were becoming rather short, of late, the county agent said he had noticed on his trips throughout the county, and would not have withstood a much longer dry period.

Most of the corn fields in the county have been planted, he said, although there are a few farmers who as yet have not completed their planting.

The rain came just at the right time for the corn. Last week it would not have been so welcome, as a rain during the cold spell would have caused the seed to rot. However, the rain last night with warmer weather here, will give the necessary moisture for the germination of the seed recently planted and put the ground in shape, commented the county agent.

Two Inches of Rain Fell in Kansas City

Kansas City, May 13.—Traffic was tied up and telephones and telegraph wires damaged early today when two inches of rain fell here. The downpour was the heaviest since June 26, 1924 and was accompanied by hail and a spectacular electrical display.

.56 Inch Rainfall

The rain last night and early this morning measured .56 of an inch, according to J. R. Brink, official weather observer.

15 YEARS FOR DESKIN KILLER

R. F. WARREN FOUND GUILTY OF SECOND DEGREE MURDER.

TO ASK FOR NEW TRIAL

Jury Seven Hours Deliberating—Convicted Man Receives The Verdict Calmly.

Kansas City, May 13—Roscoe F. Warren, slayer of John C. Deskin, was found guilty of second degree murder and sentenced to serve fifteen years in the state penitentiary yesterday by a jury in Judge O. A. Lucas' court.

The verdict was reached shortly after 4 o'clock. The jury had been out almost seven hours.

Warren received the verdict calmly. He refused to comment on the outcome of the case.

Harry Friedberg, defense attorney, announced motion for a new trial would be made, and if denied, the case would be appealed to the supreme court.

Deskin was shot by Warren October 13 in a law office in the Scarritt building, where Warren's managership of the Rocky Mountain Club was being investigated by the board of trustees. Deskin, one of the trustees, was reading a resolution asking for Warren's resignation when Warren fired on him. Warren then wounded himself.

The defense had pleaded insanity. The state had asked for the death penalty. Although Warren faced a charge of first degree murder, under the court's instructions, the jury was at liberty to find him guilty of murder of first or second degree, or manslaughter, or insanity. The case went to the jury at 10:30 o'clock Monday night and deliberations were begun at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Foreman of Jury Resigns.

The verdict was reached after twenty-three ballots. The first ballot, yesterday morning, showed eight believing Warren guilty of first degree murder and four believing him insane. J. W. Mueller, 4902 East Twenty-fourth street, the foreman, resigned after four ballots. Mr. Mueller was one of the four believing Warren insane. He told the jury he did not believe it would come to an agreement with himself as foreman.

SAYS INQUIRY IS ALL "BUNK"

YOUNG DILLON EXPRESSES CONCERN OVER MOTHER.

REVOLVERS ARE FOUND

Are Of Same Make As One Purchased In Lawrence, Kans., By Youth Accused of Murder of His Father.

St. Louis, May 13.—Expressing deep concern for his mother who collapsed yesterday at the inquest into the death of Dr. William A. Dillon, and commenting on the investigation generally as "the bunk," George Dillon, 19-year-old son of the slain surgeon, made his first public appearance unaccompanied by his attorneys today since his name was brought into the probe.

Young Dillon appeared at the showing of a special motion picture taken at the opening of a new radio station here the night of the murder.

St. Louis, May 13.—Three .38 caliber revolvers of the same make which it has been testified George Dillon purchased the day prior to his father's murder were in the possession of police today but a veil of official reticence was cast over any positive identification of the weapon.

The revolvers were said to have been found in various places in St. Louis County but all details were withheld.

"If we find that one of them is the revolver which the Lawrence, Kan., pawnbroker, Abe Wolfson, testified young Dillon purchased from him, then a decided turn in this case may be expected within twenty four hours," state's attorney Fred Mueller declared.

Possibility that one of these three would be selected loomed as the delegates of the sixth annual convention of motion picture theater owners of America went into their second day's session here.

TO PROSECUTE PRICE FIXERS

JARDINE DECLARES MANIPULATIONS MUST CEASE.

MAY REVAMP SYSTEM

No Evidence Leading to Asking of Criminal Indictments Has Yet Been Uncovered at Chicago.

Washington, May 13.—Evidence of law violation in connection with the recent fluctuations in prices at the Chicago wheat exchange will result in immediate prosecution of those responsible for manipulating the market, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine declared in a formal statement this afternoon.

Jardine said his investigatigation of "destructive price changes" was continuing and that he was seeking not only to determne who was responsble but to revamp existing regulations affecting grain operations so that there would be no repetition of market manipulations.

Washington, May 13.—The investigation of the department of agriculture into the alleged manipulation of the Chicago wheat market by a group of millionaire operators has not thus far shown sufficient evident to warrant seeking of criminal indictments, it was learned officially today.

The inquiry has been underway for about a week and will be pressed vigorously, officials said, to determine whether there was wrongdoing through violation of the grain futures act of 1922.

MRS. SHEPHERD FREED BY JURY

INVESTIGATING BODY VOTES "NO BILLS" TODAY.

HUSBAND FACES TRIAL

Hearing On Charge of Murdering His Foster Son, William Nelson McClintock, Will Start Next Monday.

Chicago, May 3.—The grand jury this afternoon voted "no bills" in both charges against Mrs. Julie Shepherd—both the charge of guilty in complicity in the alleged murder of her foster son, William Nelson McClintock, and the boy's mother, Mrs. Emma McClintock.

The charge against William D. Shepherd in the death of Mrs. McClintock was held open. Shepherd will go to trial next Monday on the charge of having murdered young McClintock.

Chicago, May 13.—With the attitude of the state's attorneys office towards the proceedings still undefined, the May grand jury here today began hearing the testimony which prompted the coroner's jury to hold Mrs. Julie Shepherd as an accessory to the alleged murder of Mrs. Emma McClintock and her son, Billy.

Whether or not new indictments are to be asked was not known as the proceedings started, but there has been nothing to indicate that Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, has changed his original contention that the introduction of the Mrs. Shepherd angle confuses the trial of her husband, William D. Shepherd, which is scheduled to start May 18.

Uhl's Attorneys Charge Leonard With Murder

Trump Card Played For Man Now Under Sentence For Death oF Hutchinson Recluse.

Hutchinson, Kan., May 13.—Attorneys for Dr. Kenn B. Uhls, under sentence to the state penitentiary for twenty-five years for the murder of W. E. Gibbs, aged Hutchinson recluse, today played their trump card when they filed affidavits tending to show the crime was committed by Frank Leonard, who was tried with Dr. Uhls and acquitted.

Dr. Uhls is at liberty on bond of $20,000, pending a ruling of the state Supreme Court on his case.

Leonard was a patient at a sanitarium conducted at Overland Park, Kan. by Dr. Uhls. Leonard was being treated for drug habit. Gibbs, who had amassed a fortune estimated at $200,000 lost virtually all of it in investments before he was murdered. More than one-half of it was invested in stock in Dr. Uhls' sanitarium.

THE THRILL OF GRADUATION DAYS.

Graduation days draw near. There is a busy hum in home and school and Commencement, with all its various activities, rewards and problems, is being prepared for.

In the school, class day exercises are being prepared; one senior is writing a class will; another a prophecy and so on. There is studying to be done for final tests as well as for exercises that mark the end of a class. Teachers, principals and superintendents are deep in the mire, too, interested and working as hard as they did for the first commencement after they embarked in the tutoring profession.

Homes are just as busy. Mothers are making clothes. There must be graduation dresses; brother must have a new suit, sister must have things planned for her. Both must have a graduation gift and it will be only a short while until graduation.

Besides the usual strain of preparing for the end of the school year in the home, there is the worry in some homes whether Brother will pass. A final warning has been received that he is on uneasy ground and the last week or so will count a great deal; but preparations must go on and they do progress in spite of it all.

At graduation and commencement, the younger kiddies will be promoted to high school; the older ones graduated to take up life's knowledge in college.

Both have grave problems. Both will find their new sphere vastly different than anticipated, for high school is greatly different from the grades and college is quite a step from high school even to the sophisticated high school senior. To make them realize it all, now, is beyond the power of school teacher, mother and father. It's a step in life to be learned and realized when it is all over. Many experiences are that way and graduation and commencement are not fully appreciated until a year or two brings out their significance.

There will be caps and gowns for commencement with diplomas and gifts following and a speech by someone of prominence; tiny bits of that speech will stick through life, though during its making there will be great boredom and a straining of nerves so taut that much of it will be missed.

Mothers, fathers and friends will make up the audience, seeing all, but one bright spot, Their Own, will be the most conspicious. With hearts softened almost to tears they, too, will hear the speaker and wonder and plan and rejoice when Their Own is handed a diploma. To them it is a greater triumph than the graduate will ever feel.

Commencement is the coming of fresh young blood of the city into its veins. They will really enter into the life of the community upon its termination and will be its "Young Men and Young Women," as assembly speakers invariably address them. Before Commencement they are still under the shelter of the home and school and will be afterwards, of course, but it is their turn to take up Life and they will.

There will be many to go away to college and there they will shape their future destiny to a great extent. There will be others to enter into work at home, away from home and everywhere, breaking into the work of the world and life, and for them it is their only Commencement.

Hundreds of children, young men and women will take part in the graduations and commencements to be held within the next two or three weeks. From Maryville and all surrounding towns in the county and from the country they will be graduated and started on an another cycle of endeavor.

The school wheel has turned and a generation is rising.

Petitions to Refer Workman's Law Out

Act Approved by Associated Industries May Be Submitted to Voters of Missouri.

St. Louis, Missouri, May 13.—Petitions to refer the Workmen's Compensation Law passed by the last General Assembly are being circulated throughout the state. Under the provisions of the initiative and referendum law, only 5 per cent of the voters in two-thirds of the sixteen Congressional Districts are required to sign these petitions to refer the Workmen's Compensation Law to the voters.

If the required signatures are obtained, the new law which would become effective July 9, would be made inactive until after the voters of Missouri sustain or reject the Workmen's Compensation Measure at the polls in November, 1926.

Paid solicitors who receive 10 cents a name for obtaining signatures to the referendum petition, are now at work in various sections of the state. Trade unionists affiliated with the Federation of Labor have been urged by their executives to refrain from signing these referendum petitions. R. T. Wood, president of the State Federation of Labor, who with his executive associates, has declared the Workmen's Compensation Law recently signed by Governor Sam A Baker to be the most constructive piece of legislation that has been enacted in Missouri during the past twenty-five years, has, through the press of the state, urged all employes not to sign the petitions now being circulated.

The present Workmen's Compensation Law was sponsored by the Associated Industries of Missouri, and has the approval of the employers and of the Federation of Labor. The opposition, according to Elmer Donnell, managing director of the Associated Industries, comes from the damage-suit lawyers and a few disgruntled Labor leaders in St. Louis and Kansas City.

"We sincerely hope that the enforcement of the Workmen's Compensation Law will not be delayed through the referendum," said Mr. Donnell. "If it is, the Associated Industries of Missouri will use every honorable means to persuade the voters at the election in November, 1926, to sustan the acton of the Legislature in passing the Act."

OUR ADVERTISEMENT

Tomorrow evening, be sure to see our full double page advertisement which will appear in this paper. It will be impossible to list all the bargains that will be offered during this Birthday Party, but we will try to give you a partial list in this large advertisement.

Every day since the establishment of this store eleven years ago, we have tried to do a little better than we did the day before and every year we try our utmost to make this annual event more attractive and greater bargains offered than we have ever done before.

OUR PURPOSE

When the founder established this store, his main object was to live up to the Golden Rule and we have tried to do so and always will try to do so.

It is the policy of this store to sell you what you want and what you can use to good advantage, that will give satisfaction and pleasure and comfort to the purchaser. It has always been and always will be as much pleasure to have satisfied customers as it is for you to be satisfied yourselves. Whenever you make a purchase in this store and upon arriving home the feeling comes over you, "I wish I hadn't bought it," you are always free to return your purchase and receive your money as cheerfully as it was taken.

OUR STORE

We have always called our store "The Biggest Little Store in the United States." Our reason for so doing we believe that it is the most valuable stock of dry goods in any store in the United States in the same size building. We try at all times to have what you want when you want it at the price you want to pay. There are hundreds of customers who say "When you can't find it at Haines, there is no use looking elsewhere." That is the reputation that we have always enjoyed on having a complete assortment of merchandise. No matter if it is a spool of thread or a fine silk dress you are sure to find the color, size and kind that you will want.

We take great pride in keeping our store in perfect condition at all times. Every item in the store has a place of its own and it is always in that place. We believe that we have the best, the cleanest, newest and freshest, best kept stock of merchandise you will find any place, it is in such perfect condition at all times that it is a pleasure to the shopper because our salespeople never have to look twice to find what you want.

NO TRASH AT ANY PRICE

We buy only first class merchandise from the most reliable manufacturers and guarantee every item we sell to be absolutely as represented. We never buy seconds, remnants, nor mill-ends. You can rest assured that for every dollar you spend in our store that you will receive one hundred cents in value. For the past eleven years we have enjoyed uninterrupted prosperity, there must be a reason for it.

OUR SALESPEOPLE

No matter how often you enter our store nor whether you want to buy or not, you will always find the salespeople with a smile and courteous treatment. It is always a pleasure for them to greet you, they are well-posted and very alert and give you prompt and efficient service. You will always find it is a pleasure to trade with them rather than a task.

OUR APPRECIATION

We are so grateful for the liberal patronage which the public gives us from year to year that in order to show our appreciation we do business one week every year in the way of an Anniversary Sale without one cent of profit to ourselves. If you do not take advantage of this Eleventh Great Anniversary Sale it is your loss. Remember everything in our store is sold at a reduced price during this sale except a very few restricted exceptions.

Did you ever stop to think what a responsibility the grocer has? No other merchant is so bound to sell quality and value, as the grocer. You can buy a suit, or a window shade, or any one of a hundred other things, and if there is something wrong with it, why, the only particular result is that you haven't received full 100 per cent value for your money.

But, if you buy food that isn't actually PERFECT, what happens? Why, you not only fail to get full value for your money, but your health and your very life is endangered.

We believe we recognize our responsibility as food distributors We know that we are bound by universal law not to allow any article go out of our store unless it is in perfect condition. By carefully observing this law, we hope to gain your patronage by efficient service.

Following up this conception of the true service which we must render our customers, we realized that we must exercise careful judgment in our buying. We therefore, went to a wholesale grocery firm that manufactures most of its own products. These people operate their own mills and canning factories, and thus protect the quality of the goods they distribute.

We arranged to feature their JACK SPRAT line as the leading brand of foods in our store. In consequence of this arrangement, we are able to sell you these extra high quality foods at prices much lower than you ordinarily pay.

These JACK SPRAT products do not come to us through many uncertain channels, as do most of the brands sold in grocery stores. We know just what goes into every can and package bearing the JACK SPRAT label. We KNOW that these foods are GOOD.

Practically every article in the grocery line that comes in a can or package can be secured under the JACK SPRAT Brand. Vegetables, fruits and spices of all kinds, olives, coffee, powdered sugar, and practically anything you may need with the exception of green goods, can be found at our store under the JACK SPRAT Brand of quality.

Harmony

Church Notes.

The attendance at Sunday School Sunday morning reached 100, the highest mark for some time and the interest was good. The collection reached nearly $5.00. Mildred Woodburn gave a reading appropriate to the thought of Mother's Day. Rev. C. J. Nutt of Des Moines president of this Conference preached the sermon at the morning hour to a wel filled house, and after the sermon the communion was administered, nearly every one partaking. In the evening, because of the illness of Rev. Underwood, Rev. Nutt preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the High School. He gave a splendid address to the young people that was much appreciated by them, as well as the entire audience. At this service there was special music; a duet by Misses Letha Lawson and Catheryn Lewis and a High School song by the Alumni, who had general charge of the program.

Rev. Nutt held the Third Quarterly Conference Friday evening and at this time reports were heard from the heads of various departments of the church, which showed affairs in very good shape, indeed.

Ernest Wray and family from the Mozingo neighborhood attended the baccalaureate services Sunday evening.

Supt. B. K. Lewis appointed the following as a committee to prepare for Children's Day, Miss Alta Moore, Mrs. Ethel Anderson, and Mrs. B. K. Lewis. The program will be given on an early Sunday in June.

The Ladies Aid held a called meeting after the services Sunday morning.

We hope to have the second unit of library books here by next Sabbath.

School Notes.

Class night, a separate account of which appeared in a recent paper, was well attended last Thursday evening. Miss Horten had general charge of the preparation and presentation of the program, which was novel and spicy in character.

Grade track meet last Tuesday, was, perhaps, the best attended and most interesting of any time in the four years in which it has been held. In order to keep up with the growing importance of this occasion in school activities, it is planned to make a full day of this event next year. Edwin Garrett was high point performer in individuals, and Pioneer led all the schools in the total number of points obtained.

For our school picnic Friday we went to Hackett's lake over on Platte River, with well filled baskets and all the paraphanalia necessary to occasions. Through the kindness of J. S. Casteel, boating was enjoyed by all. After dinner we were compelled to adjourn to the school building on account of the rain, where supper was served interspersed with pop and ice cream. Take it all around we only needed a little sunshine to make it a perfect occasion.

School closed last week at Casteel, Pioneer and Champaign at all of which places the patrons showed their appreciation by providing a treat in the way of a generous dinner. Mr. King was presented with a handsome fountain pen by his patrons, and the occasion marked the close of a very successful term in all these wards. The remaining two schools will close with this week.

At a special meeting of the school board held Wednesday evening, Hally Ford was employed as a mathematics and science teacher in the High School. This insures a very harmonious and smooth working faculty. Mr. Ford is just the one to strengthen our school in athletics, where he will fit in nicely. Rah! rah! rah! rah!

Personals.

Senator William Stubbs and wife of Mound City visited several days at the home of Mrs. Amelia Sapp. Mrs. Stubbs and Mrs. Sapp are sisters. The senator and wife attended Baccalaureate services Sunday evening and Commencement the next night. A few years ago Mr. Stubbs represented this district in the state senate.

Mr. O'Banion, Mr. Cooper and Mr. Phillips from near Atlanthus were over consulting members of our school board last Sunday afternoon relative to a consolidation project they wish to consumate in their community. They appear to mean business.

Mrs. Underwood who has been ill for some time is unfortunately no better at present writing. A nurse has been installed to give personal attention to her case and it is hoped an immediate improvement will result.

Rev. Underwood was seriously ill Sunday afternon and unable to fill the pulpit that evening. As noted elsewhere, Rev. Nutt was commandeered to preach the baccalaureate sermon at that hour.

Cecil Lawson and family attended Commencement exercises Monday evening.

Mrs. Maude Hunt and Mrs. Alfred Hunt were in Maryville Monday afternoon.

R. V. McKee was in Maryville early Monday morning.

Leatha Lawson, Dorris McKee, and Doyle Thomas, all students at S. T. C. spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks, returning to their work in school Monday.

A marriage license was issued this morning to John Lee Hooper of Pabora, Ia., and Gertrude Bielstein of Williamsburg, Ia.

This is the first license to be issued from the local Recorder's office since May 5.

Pres. Lamkin Gives Commencement Talk

Presents Diplomas To Four At Harmony High School Exercises Held Monday Night.

The tendency in modern life to act from impulse, rather from thought, and the wrong conception of value held by many, were discussed by Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers' College, at the graduation exercises of the Harmony High School at the Harmony Church last Monday night.

President Lamkin was greeted by a large audience, which listened to his address with marked attention. The thought of his talk was directed, not so much to amuse or interest as it was to present matter for thought.

The graduates to whom President Lamkin presented diplomas were Alta Moore, Viola Lawson, Zella Logan and Perry Sapp.

To Urge and Extoll Respect for All Law

Federal Dry Bureau Will Put On Campaign After July 1—For Law Observance.

By WILLIAM J LOSH
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 13.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews has banned all praise of prohibition in the $50,000 campaign the federal dry bureau will spring on the country after July 1.

Andrews has limited the slogans to be borne on the posters strictly to phrases urging and extolling respect for all law and the constitution making the campaign of general "law observance" and not simply "prohibition observance."

A conference of all high prohibition officials in Washington has been called to meet next week to draft the "broadside."

Meanwhile an artists has been engaged by the bureau and is busy whipping suggestions into shape.

Many suggested slogans have been received by the bureau from temperance organizations, but nearly all have been discarded because they stress observance of the dry laws above others, as for example, one received from an Ohio organization:

"The Flag or the Flagon. Which will you uphold.

"You must choose."

Another depicts a bootlegger passing out a bottle to a customer with the following caption:

"Brothers in Crime.

"The Demand Creates the Supply."

Among suggestions in keeping with Andrews' dictum that have been received is a draft of a poster by Assistant Prohibition Commissioner Jones. Adorned with a picture of the United States capitol it says:

"America's history is a record of law observance and high ideals. In disregard for law lies the greatest danger to the republic."

One from President Coolidge's inaugural address in which he declared that those who violate the law "are treading the way that leads back to the jungle" features another.

Here's Something to Think About

SOME FOLKS sigh for the "good old days" before the war when they realize that average living costs today are 75 per cent higher than they were in 1913. Everything, it seems, costs more.

One important item in the family budget, however, has decreased in price. Electricity is 8 per cent cheaper today than it was in 1913. Other prices have gone up and forgotten to come down, but electricity costs less than ever.

That's an eloquent testimonial, we believe, to the efficiency and fairness of the private companies which furnish 96 per cent of the country's electric light and power.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, May 13.—Leading grains suffered sharp downward reverses in a day of drastic liquidations on the board of trade today. Oats had a firm undertone and sagged only fractionally. Corn was the leader in the slump.

Sellers had the principal position in the wheat pit. Bulls staged a losing battle against overwhelming bear crop and weather advises. Liverpool finished strong and higher, with principal strengths in the May. Small scattered loads were reported sold for export.

Freer country offerings and bearish crop advises created brisk profit-taking in corn. Offers of grain to come from southwestern markets were received by leading houses.

Oats held a firm undertone due to improved local demand and export inquiries.

Sharp declines in provisions reflected generally lower hog markets.

Mother's Day Service at Elmo was Success

(By Edgar O. Wells, Minister)

Our Mother's Day service was a perfect success, with a fine attendance, and great attention, and several persons spoke in appreciation of the sermon, but the opportunity of a lifetime faced the speaker at night at the Methodist Church South, as there was a nearly capacity congregation and the special music was highly appreciated by all, and the personnel of the senior class seems to be above the average.

The services for next Sunday, May 17, will be at the usual hours, with worship and sermon by the pastor. The theme at the morning hour, will be, Learners at the Feet of Jesus. The evening service will be in the interest of all, but will be especially so to young people, and the theme will be, "The Relation of Youth to Manhood, or The Making of a Life.

We will all turn our eyes toward the next high day in the church, which is Children's Day, and we should not wait many days until our preparation begins. Let us also make our plans for an early Sunday School picnic. We do not mean one of those stately affairs where after a big dinner, the children are lined up, and when everybody feels more like a nap than a speech by the greatest speaker on earth, and Missouri, but one of the old fashioned kind, with romping and swinging and games by old and young, and home again, and a night of sleep like that "When You and I Were Young Maggie." Let us have it, and your pastor would be glad if all the Sunday Schools would unite. What say you?

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT KANSAS CITY

By Kansas City Live Stock Exchange

Consumers are calling for small cuts of beef. The changing season makes the housewife regard a small steak and roast as the leading meat diet, and because that is what the average home wants the killers are scraping stock yards for cattle, 400 to 1,000 pounds, that carry some degree of finish. The baby beef class is attractive but few carry the required flesh. 750 to 950 pound yearlings make good light cuts and high quality beef and at the same time kill out well. Killers, if they could turn the beef readily would prefer to handle 1150 to 1350 pound steers, but it requires an order on special lines to make the 1400 to 1550 pound steer go readily.

For nearly eighteen months past the light weight cattle have been more attractive than the heavier kinds, until now the feeder is turning to the production of yearlings and baby beeves in self protection. The scaling down in weights is making a material reduction in the pounds of beef available, and it does not seem probable that a further reduction can be made without putting the feeder to the necessity of handling calves entirely.

Good to choice yearlings, light weight steers and baby beeves, both straight steers, and steers and heifers mixed are 25 cents higher than last week's close and 40 to 60 cents higher than a week ago. Medium weight steers are quoted stronger, and the heavy weight classes are barely steady with trade slow. Choice light weight steers sold at $10.75 to $11.10. Nothing prime was offered. Medium weight steers sold up to $10.85, and heavy weight steers up to $10.35. The bulk of the fed steers brought $9.25 to $10.50. Texas meal and hull fed steers brought $7.35 to $9.25, and straight grass fat southern steers $5.25 to $6.75. Receipts of fed cattle are diminishing.

Butcher cattle prices remain firm. Prime cows are selling at $8.50 to $9.25, the highest in several years past, and the good to choice kinds find a ready outlet at $6 to $8.50. Prime heifers are bringing $10 to $10.75, and good to choice $9 to $10. Bulls are 15 to 25 cents higher at $4.50 to $5.50, and veal calves firm, top $10.

Only small supplies of stockers and feeders are available and prices are holding firm. Demand is sufficient to care for increased offerings, but with moisture in the southwest sufficient to keep the range good, few thin cattle will be available before mid-summer.

The upswing in hog prices that started a week ago is still in progress. Today's advance was 25 to 40 cents and that gain took the general market $1.75 above a week ago. The price level is approaching the 13 cent mark. Receipts remain light and indications are that a further advance will prevail. The top price today was $12.90, and bulk of sales $12.50 to $12.85. Practically all weights above 150 pounds sold within the bulk and the 130 to 150 pounds brought $12.15 to $12.60. Packing sows sold at $11.75.

Sheep are holding at strong prices but lambs are 25 to 50 cents lower than last week. Spring lambs both native and Westerns are selling at $14 to $15.50; winter fed lambs in fleece $14 to $15.35; shorn lambs $12 to $12.75; shorn ewes $7.75 to $8.25, and shorn wethers $8.25 to $9. Shorn classes and spring lambs will predominate from now on.

Des Moines, Ia., May 13.—A billion-dollar export corporation to control grain prices is favored by the national conference of farm organizations in session here today.

By a resolution adopted by a unanimous vote, hundreds of delegates from various farm organizations in the grain belt states went on record this afternoon for Congressional enactment to enable the establishment and financing of a gigantic export body controlled by "real dirt farmers," which would assure farmers of an average profit of not less than 5 per cent plus cost of production.

True American Citizens Must Respect Flag And Obey Laws of Government

The following essay on "Qualities of a Good Citizen," written by Miss Ruth McCorkle, a student in the eighth grade at the Hopkins school, was awarded first prize in the grade school division of the county-wide essay contest recently sponsored by the Democrat-Forum.

When one thinks of a soldier one thinks of his bravery, his strength, his daring, and his great sacrifice. A prosperous business man is pictured as a shrewd, clever, energetic or farsighted. A good house wife is characterized as neat, tidy, and thrifty. Just as there are certain qualities which distinguish the soldier, the business man, and the house wife, so there are certain marked characteristics of every good citizen.

Loyalty is one of the most important qualities necessary to make a good citizen. A man should be loyal to his country, loyal to his state, and loyal to his state, and loyal to his city or town. He must be loyal to the officers in his town and ready to support them. A loyal citizen speaks well for his country and government and does not allow anyone else to speak against it. He is loyal by being obedient to the laws and helping to enforce them. A loyal citizen does not stay at home on election day, but goes and votes to the best of his ability.

An active public spirit is also essential to a good citizen. If any good cause is started to benefit his town or country, the god citizen is ready to support it and give it all the aid he can.

Every citizen should show respect for his flag. When the flag is displayed every one should stand and salute. When the national anthem is played all present should stand and face the music. Those in uniform should salute and others should remove their head dress.

A country where all the people are free, where all have a choice in making the laws, and deciding how they shall be governed is a democracy. Every good citizen must have a part in this government. A real citizen does not shirk holding office. If he is elected to an office he performs the duties of that office to the best of his ability, and for the benefit of the community, not for his own advantage.

Some of the outstanding men in good citizenship were Robert E. Lee, Lincoln, Washington, Wilson, Roosevelt, and Nathan Hale, and they illustrate the various ways in which good citizenship can be shown.

Robert E. Lee was commander in Chief of the Confederate Army. Some believe him to be one of the greatest generals the United States has ever produced. He was an ideal soldier, but no less a perfect man. The North, against which he fought with all the energy of his nature, now holds him in loving remembrance, as does the South which he saved, for he fought for the ideals of citizenship in which he firmly, and steadfastly believed. A soldier, fighting in the war, if we must have war, is one way for a man to serve his country and to show his loyalty to it.

Washington, the father of our Country, helped to lay the foundation of our national structure by spending his life in public service. Lincoln showed his love of country by struggling to save this Union from division and ruin. Wilson and Roosevelt devoted their time and energy in an effort to perpetuate the democratic ideals of our forefathers. Nathan Hale, altho he held no high public office, made the supreme sacrifice for his Country, and expressed a sentiment which should be felt by all Americans, when he said, "I regret that I have but one life to give to my country."

These are the qualities of true American citizens, to be born in America, of American parents, or to be naturalized Americans, to believe in the principles for which America stands, democracy the only form of government, and education of the rich and poor alike.

For people who have always lived in America and enjoyed its privileges and taken advantage of its opportunities, good citizenship is not so hard, as it is for people who come over here and learn the American language and American ways. But if we do not believe in democracy, obey the laws, and respect the flag and Constitution, we are not true American citizens even tho we have descended from a generation born on American soil.

Doesn't Mind It To Stub Toe On Lump of Cameo Agate Stone

By HUBERT KELLEY
(of Kansas City Journal-Post Staff.)

A motorist had a blowout on the Maryville-Burlington Junction road today and, being short a spare tire, drove his limping Ford to Schumacher's grocery.

Anselm Schumacher, amateur archaeologist and lapidary, examined the "flat" and deftly extracted a sharp triangular stone, which gleamed greenish in the sun.

"Shark's tooth," he said.

"I've been through some deep puddles of water before I hit the road," the motorist said dryly, "but I didn't know there were any sharks in them. There might be in the puddles of south Missouri."

"This shark's tooth," Schumacher continued, "is about 250,000 years old."

"My Ford is a 1925 model," growled the motorist.

Stubs Toe on Cameo Agate.

"Now I talked with a motorist the other day," Schumacher went on, "who blew his tire on a sharp topaz—golden topaz. A little boy come in here the other day for some arnica. He, too, had been on the Burlington Junction road and stubbed his toe on a lump of cameo agate. It seemed pretty to him, even though it had hurt him badly, and knowing that I collected pretty rocks, brought it in to me. That is real altruism."

The motorist told Schumacher he should write fairy stories, not sell groceries, then demanded a new inner tube and went his way.

The inner tube reminded Schumacher of the belemnite, the inner tube of an unimaginably ancient aquatic animal.

"If many motorists use the Burlington Junction road before it is thoroughly pressed," he told a by-stander, "there is going to be a belemnite puncture.

"Some of them are very sharp and hard."

Schumacher knows what the Burlington Junction road, otherwise state road, No. 18, is made of. The gravel and rock used in its construction comes from the De Armond pit, three and one-half miles northeast of Maryville. The gravel is mined from a hill which, according to Schumacher, was pushed down by a glacier 250,000 years ago.

Road of Semi-Precious Stones.

The youthful scientist has made a study of the gravel in the pit and has discovered that the Burlington Junction road is being made of semi-precious stones and the bones of prehistoric animals and fish.

Fred Hasty, foreman of the pit, every day extracts mastodon bones, teeth of the brontosaurus and the ankles of the dinosaur from the refuse of the sift.

"This quarry," Hasty said, "is a prehistoric bone yard and treasure house.

"As fast as the bones are accumulated they are carried away by antiquarian-minded persons."

Charles A. Jensen, a fur dealer of Maryville, has a collection of some of the curiosities from the pit. He has polished one golden topaz which resembles a yellow cherry.

"If some of the boys wanted to play marbles like princes," he said, "they could collect some of the shiny black obsidian, golden topaz, chalcedony agate, citrine and such from the pit and make themselves marbles like jewels."

Stones to School and Library.

Schumacher has cut two golden topazes for settings. They are rich and very lustrous. The cutting alone, however, gives them their value. He has given most of his collection to the public schools and library of Maryville.

He still has many Indian relics which he picked up in the vicinity of the glacial slide. These antiquities, however, are indigenous, Schumacher said. He has more than 5,000 arrow heads, a large collection of Indian axes and some pottery. Pragments of such objects have been found on the Burlington Junction road; in fact, one motorist used an Indian ax to block his car while he jacked up a wheel, the tire of which had ben punctured by the molar tooth of of a mastodon.

Schumacher is fearful that road No. 18 will be torn up by persons seeking relics. Most of the relics, however, are pulverized by now and cannot be distinguished from the gravel one sees on any road in Missouri.
